*It's no funny thing when a heart is broken
It feels like you're dead inside
And it messes with your head, everyone has spoken
But I did my best, I tried*

*Now I don't love you any less
But I don't love you any more
You cut me deep broke me in two when you walked out of my door
So I don't love you any less
But I don't love you any more
I've got nothing left to give to you
You took it all and left me poor*

*Struggling to make sense, riddled with emotions
Put on your best pretend, make nice
Your heart is on the fence, splintered from devotion
The grass is greener on that side*

*Now I don't love you any less
But I don't love you any more
You cut me deep broke me in two when you walked out of my door
So I don't love you any less
But I don't love you any more
I've got nothing left to give to you
You took it all and left me poor*

*Hearts beaten, bruised and battered
Till it no longer matters
A million pieces shattered
I can't feel anything*

*I'm so tired of all the he said she said this
The intricately fabricated gossip
Another version of the truth I didn't get*

The white lies all made at my expense

*You took it all from me
Now I feel nothing*

*I don't love you any less
But I don't love you any more
You cut me deep broke me in two when you walked out of my door
So I don't love you any less
But I don't love you any more
I've got nothing left to give to you
You took it all and left me poor*

*You took it all
Everything*
